If no Grand Ledge exists in such community. then the application must be addressed to the Grand Lodge of the United States; or, if in recess, to the M. Grand Sire. A subordinate Lodge is the elementary or-ganization of the order, and, as has already been said, is the active field of its labors. It is there that the initiate receives his first impressions of Odd-Fellowship. There the broad foundstion upon which the whole super-structure rests is laid bare to him, and the brotherhood of man is taught as the inspiration of Daity and the first law of nature. The lessons and instructions there rehearsed within his hearing, will create in him new impressions, if he be not wholly callous and insensible to the voice of humanity and to the counsels of wisdom. The business of a subutdinate Lodge is, however, chiefly administrative; its peculiar office is to provide the means to meet the claims of is sick and distressed members; to care for them properly during their illness; to bury the dead; to succor the widow, and to educate the orphan. In the faithful discharge of these duties it is ever watchful that no imposition is practiced by un worthy members, and that exact obedience is yielded to the laws. It is also The Circuit Court Attorney-Generalsedulous in requiring and enforcing a high toned morality and an upright walk in life. Every Lodge spaces its own bylaws, which regulate the mutual obliga tions between it and its membership, and possesses exclusive control over its own funds within their legitimate application.

Abstract secrecy or secreey of itself, is, therefore, no valid objection. There is, however, a sense in which secrecy is an evil; that is when it is perverted, just as any other principle, however good in itself, when abused will exert a mischievous influence. The true touchstone is the use, not the abuse, of secrecy; to this test Old Fellowship cordially submits its work.
